Big Shoot-Out, Tractor Style, Slated For County Fair Next Thursday Night

TULARE - The big shoot-out - tractor style - is set for the Tulare County fair, Thursday, September 18, starting at 7 p.m. in front of the fair's grandstand.

Officially, it's the Tractor Pulling contest, under direction of the Pacific Tractor Pullers association, with winners to continue on in a series of competitive events to eventual state winners.

There will be no charge for the contest, which will bring local farmers and implement people, as well as "tractor jockeys" from throughout California, into competition with both stock tractors and modified tractors, the latter with power plants under the hood that are subject only to the owner's imagination, and his pocketbook.

Classes are established on a basis of tractor weight, with stock tractor classes for under 7,000, 9,000, 12,000, 15,000, 18,000 and 22,000 pounds, plus 22,000 pound class for tractors with dual tires.

Modified classes are 5,000, 7,000, and 9,000 pounds. Official weights are determined as a tractor departs for the pull contest starting point.

Competition involves tractors moving a weight-transfer sled on which weight is shifted forward as the tractor moves ahead, increasing resistance for the tractor. Winner in each class is the tractor that moves furthest distance before its wheels start to spin.

The weight-transfer implement was designed and developed at Cal Poly in San Luis Obispo.

Entry fee at the Tulare fair is $20, which will be jackpotted, with a $70 added purse. Entry will close at 5 p.m. on September 18. Competition is open to anyone, however only members of the Pacific Tractor Pullers association are eligible for association points.

Tractor pulling, which has become a major competitive event through the middle west, is rapidly developing on the West coast and was initially placed on the Tulare County Fair program last year. It drew a standing-room-only crowd.

BERRY WILL AUTOGRAPH BOOK

OUR TOWN

By Ruth Loyd

The pictures of the Barn Hossar Party were really great. Everyone looked so prosperous. ELDON HUNT was the only one I knew from the old days. PETE TEWKESBURY could charm the birds off the trees. He got a bunch of us to do more weird things. Five of us would get up at about five o'clock in the morning to go paint scenery, before it got too hot. We cleaned toilets, we lent furniture, we took tickets, we worked back stage, and on stage. One traumatic time was in Tulare. We needed money, of course, and a Dairyman's convention invited us to put on our melodrama for all the Portuguese families. The huge bare room didn't have a stage, or a curtain, so the audience had the pleasure of watching us putting up the scenery, and running back and forth to the rest rooms to change costumes. All around the room were all kinds of machines one uses on cows for milking. Children were everywhere, and you had to be loud and wonderful. It was about the second act, and I was singing my little heart out with an opera aria, or what I thought was an opera aria (VIRGINIA BAKER always seemed to cringe when I sang). Anyway, I was singing when the whole audience got up and left. I kept right on singing, the show must go on, you know. We kept doggedly on until the bitter finish, and the janitor's two little children seemed to enjoy it. When they gave us our check we asked them what happened. It was four o'clock and everyone went home to milk their cows.

When you are home, and not supposed to be too active, it is so great to love to read. I have read more in the last few months, than I have in my whole life. I have enjoyed again the books I read as a child. The House Of Words across from the theatre is full of all kinds of paperbacks. I have found that the pictures on the cover aren't indicative of what is inside. Some old favorites have the wildest pictures on the front, and one book I brought home had a very innocuous picture of a lady on the front, but when I

Amended Raisin Marketing Order Now In Operation In California

SACRAMENTO — An amended Marketing Order for California Raisins became effective September 4 after winning producer and processor approval by a substantial margin, State Director of Food and Agriculture Tim Wallace has reported.

More than 90 percent of the producers voting cast ballots in favor of the marketing order. These growers accounted for almost 95 percent of the total raisin tonnage produced in 1973-74 season by the participating producers.

Over 90 percent of the processors, representing more than 90 percent of the total tonnage processed in the same period, expressed their approval by written assent.

Under the marketing order, the California Raisin Advisory board assists the director in administering an international program of advertising and promotion for California raisin and a comprehensive research program.

The principal marketing order amendment authorizes an increase in the total assessment rate from the present $5 per ton to a maximum not to exceed $20 per ton with a maximum of got into it my eyes started to water. I don't shock easily, but some of the new best sellers seem to go out of their way to try. There is a new Bicentennial Series which gave me a new light on what happened in Our Country in 1776.

HELEN NUNES sent me the Diary of ANNAIS NIN. I haven't read it yet, but if HELEN sent it to me, I know it is worth reading.

The Other Side of the Mountain by E.G. Valens, is the inspiring story of Skiing Star JILL KINMOUNT, from triumph to tragedy. This book is also an inspiration to MILLIE LAND who is having her own problems getting back on her feet after crushing her knee. She has a lot of courage too.

Happiness is reading, everything!

Could you use another country ...as a customer?

BANK OF AMERICA NT&SA

Some of California's most enterprising growers are going to be getting attractive returns in the export market this year. And the most successful are subscribing to three fundamentals of developing sound and solid foreign sales.

First, they suggest, you can expect the most profitable export markets almost always to be quality markets. When you ship great distances at high cost, it pays to make sure your product will justify the price you hope to command when it gets there.

Secondly, it helps to understand that each foreign country has its own way of doing business. And most foreign buyers are very, very good at it.

Thirdly, as in any enterprise, you want to make proper provision to be sure you get paid—and paid the right way, in the right currency, at the right time.

If the first of these fundamentals appeals to you, depend on us to be of considerable assistance on the other two.

Specifically, we can give you a personal background briefing on the practical "do's and don'ts" of foreign commerce as they might apply to your particular operation and your particular crop.

We can also arrange an exploratory conference, right in your own office, with one of our seasoned specialists in international trade and international finance. He talks your language, and he can also help you translate it in terms of world-wide markets and world-wide sales.

The immediate availability of expert counsel on export sales is one of the advantages of doing business with our local Bank of America.

Exports are essential to the nation's balance of payments. They might also be helpful to you. And hopefully to our whole community.

That's why we are offering "Man-on-the-Spot" services to California agriculture. One quick phone call can put our international resources to work for you right here at home. And when you make that call, ask for me.

VANDALIA - Vandalia 4-H club will start the 1975-76 club year with 12 new members as a result of the club's enrollment meeting, for a total of 52 members. Members may still join until October 1; first meeting will be held today, Thursday, at 7:30 p.m., at Vandalia school.

New members are Sandy Bechtel, Bob Ellis, Sally Ellis, Kellie Hyder, Rocky Marberry, Rondi Mueller, Kari Sweet, Wendy Tomsen, Geoffrey Wiggs, Cathy Williams, Harry Williams, and Gordon Woods.

Club officers met recently at the home of Mrs. Bill Graves, community leader, to make plans for the coming year and discuss new ideas brought back from the Junior Leader conference in Santa Barbara. It was decided to try a "buddy system" to make new members feel more at home. A pizza and bowling party has been tentatively planned for later in the year.

On Labor day, members of the citizenship group worked on the Jerry Lewis muscular dystrophy telethon by answering phones for four hours. They reported a good response from the Porterville area. Those helping were Dawn Hosfeldt, Carla Carter, Kathy Bennett, Kelly Martin, Luanne and Suzanne Graves.

STADIUM BEING ENLARGED AND IMPROVED

VISALIA - Trustees of the College of the Sequoias have given the go-ahead signal for Phase I in the remodeling of Mineral King stadium, located on the Redwood High School campus.

In a joint effort with the Visalia Unified School district and, to a lesser extent, the City of Visalia, the stadium will be completely revamped and enlarged over the next three to five years, resulting in a doubling of its seating capacity, nearly doubling of the candle powers in lighting, expansion of parking facilities near the stadium, and the addition of a nine-lane, all-weather track.

QUARANTINE IS LIFTED

WASHINGTON - The only existing federal quarantine for hog cholera has been lifted from a 100-square-mile area of the Texas panhandle by the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA). In a separate but concurrent move, a state hog cholera quarantine on the same area was also removed by the Texas Animal Health commission. Both quarantines had been imposed July 10 after veterinary authorities diagnosed the first hog cholera case found in the United States in over a year.

Singing, Dancing, Socializing... And Fine Food To Feature Barbecue

POPLAR — Singing, dancing, old-fashioned socializing, and a fine dinner will feature the Poplar chamber of commerce barbecue that will be served tonight (Thursday) from 5:30 p.m. to 8 p.m. at the Tule River Youth Center in Poplar.

Entertaining will be the Mineral King Barbershop chorus, under direction of John Henderson, also two barbershop quartets — the "Quaking Aspens" and "Old Days and Happy Ways."

Square dance group, headed by Ray George, will perform, and music will be provided by "Shades Of Rhythm," led by Larry Carroll.

"We're lining up other entertainment also," says Bill Taber, arrangements chairman, "and Bill Rodgers, of Porterville, will be our MC."

Tickets will be available at the barbecue — $2.50 for adults and $1.50 for children — and can also be purchased in Porterville at Rod Havens' Shell Oil, Farmers Tractor, Freeway Auto Parts, Bank of America, Bob Taylor's Standard Oil, Jim's Auto Parts, Billingsley & Madland, Queen's Market, Precision Brake & Wheel, Joe Cobb Auto Parts, California Federal, and Tex's Barber Shop.

In Cotton Center tickets are available at Mahan Coffee shop and Gillespie Ag.; in Poplar at Ray George & Son, Poplar Locker, Walker's Grocery, and Mt. View Market; at Paul's Central Market, Jones Corner, and at Rosso's in Woodville.

Funds from the barbecue will be used for youth activities of the Poplar chamber, primarily Little League and Babe Ruth baseball.

McINTURF HEADS GRAPE COOPERATIVE

FRESNO — Robert C. McInturf, of Fresno, has been re-elected president of Allied Grape Growers. He is a grape producer in Madera and Fresno counties, and has served as a chief executive of the wine grape grower cooperative since 1956. Other officers re-elected are Don Toyoda, Turlock, vice president; Buddy T. Iwata, Livingston, secretary, and H.T. Woodworth, Lodi, treasurer. Allied has a membership of 1,700 growers.

TV COURSE ON INSURANCE AT COLLEGE

PORTERVILLE — Porterville college, in cooperation with six other Central Valley colleges, will offer a special television insurance course beginning September 4.

Titled "Family Risk Management," the two-unit class may be reviewed each Tuesday and Thursday through December 18 from 6:30-7 a.m. over Channel 24-KMJ-TV.

According to Robert Ross, Porterville college business chairman and program coordinator, the class is designed to help consumers understand how wise risk and insurance planning can protect them from economic loss.

Included in the class will be dramatizations of actual legal cases to illustrate the viewer's rights and responsibilities in such areas as Social Security and auto, health, life and homeowner's insurance. It will also cover the subject of financial responsibility.

The 18-week program is produced by the University of Wisconsin and is hosted by Dr. David J. Ward, assistant professor of managerial systems at Wisconsin.

The course is open to all adults (18 years and older), high school graduates and some high school juniors and seniors. There is no charge, unless a textbook is purchased. Deadline to apply is September 5.

Persons desiring additional information should contact Ross at 781-3130, ext. 65.

RESTRICTIONS PLACED ON "NEMACUR"

SACRAMENTO — Emergency regulations are now in effect to provide greater safeguards for persons in areas where the organophosphate pesticide "Nemacur" is used to control nematodes, a microscopic pest that feeds on plant root systems. The new regulation allows the pesticide to be used only if the County Agricultural commissioner issues a permit for possession and use. Commissioners will only issue permits to commercial or professional users including licensed agricultural pest control operators, grounds keepers, and maintenance superintendents. The person receiving the permit must supervise the application.

Nemacur can only be used on commercial turf grasses, which includes golf courses, cemeteries, sod farms, industrial grounds and parkways. It is not to be used around homes, gardens, institutional lawns, or public recreation areas other than golf courses.
